Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Poultry is a newly established, online, open access journal that aims to publish high-quality research on topics in various areas of poultry production and health. This research should reflect the eminent and increasing importance of all poultry species reared for human nutrition. Poultry adheres to rigorous peer-review and editorial processes. Containing specialists from different areas in this field of research, the Editorial Board enthusiastically works to safeguard the quality of the review process and your contribution. A dedicated support team from the publisher is available, when required, to offer help and support for specific requests. Equipped with such a wide breadth of knowledge and expertise, Poultry should be the landmark for research on poultry science.

Aims

Poultry (ISSN 2674-1164) is an international, peer-reviewed, open access journal.

The journal plays a pivotal role in the dissemination of preeminent poultry-related knowledge across all disciplines. It publishes original articles, critical reviews, communications and case reports related to poultry. Our aim is to publish timely experimental and theoretical research results in a rapid and readily accessible manner.

Scope

Poultry is a multidisciplinary journal for poultry scientists and advisers to the poultry industry throughout the world. The journal aims to cover a broad spectrum of subjects influencing the health, welfare and productivity of all bird species kept for animal production. Subjects which are covered include:

- Poultry Health and Production;
- Poultry Pathology;
- Poultry Immunology;
- Poultry Behaviour and Welfare;
- Poultry Nutrition;
- Poultry Breeding and Reproduction;
- Poultry Genetics and Genomics;
- Poultry Husbandry and Management;
- Poultry Processing and Products.
