Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Psychology International, your gateway to the latest advancements in psychological research. As the Editor-in-Chief, I am thrilled to present to you our esteemed journal, dedicated to fostering an inclusive platform for the exchange of cutting-edge ideas and insights in psychology.

Within our pages, you'll find a diverse array of original articles, reviews, and short communications spanning the breadth of psychological inquiry. From cognitive neuroscience to organizational behavior, our journal covers it all, providing a comprehensive snapshot of the latest developments in psychology.

But Psychology International is more than just a repository of knowledge; it is a catalyst for change. By providing a rigorous review process, we ensure that only the highest quality research reaches your hands, empowering you to make informed decisions and drive positive outcomes in your work.

So whether you are a seasoned researcher or a curious newcomer, I invite you to join us on this journey of exploration and discovery. Together, let us push the boundaries of psychological knowledge and unlock new insights into the human experience.

Editor-in-Chief

Prof. Dr. Antonio Hernández-Mendo

Aims

Psychology International (ISSN 2813-9844) is an international, peer-reviewed, open-access journal dedicated to publishing original articles, reviews, and short communications in the field of psychology. It serves as a platform for the dissemination of high-quality research across various subfields, including cognitive psychology, developmental psychology, health psychology, social psychology, organizational psychology, and sports psychology.

In addition to the mentioned fields, the journal also welcomes contributions that advance theoretical understanding, present empirical findings, or engage in methodological discussions within these domains. Our primary goal is to facilitate the exchange of psychological knowledge among researchers and practitioners worldwide. We encourage contributions from individuals involved in research or practice in any area of psychology, aiming to foster a global dialogue and promote the advancement of the discipline.

To uphold standards of excellence, Psychology International maintains a rigorous peer-review process to ensure the quality and relevance of published work. Furthermore, the journal seeks to promote interdisciplinary collaboration by encouraging contributions that integrate perspectives from related fields such as neuroscience, sociology, anthropology, and education. By embracing diverse perspectives and methodologies, Psychology International strives to contribute to a comprehensive understanding of human behavior and mental processes within the context of psychology, including sports psychology.
